Fritz Stein Named On 2-County Group

Two successful Palm Beach County businessmen, both with an avid interest in outdoor sports, are joining the Palm Beach-Broward Counties Recreational Development Committee.

Jack Horner of Palm Beach announced the appointments of Fritz Stein of Belle Glade and Chester Pike of West Palm Beach to the two-county committee which advises the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District Horner, Vice Chairman of the FCD Governing Board, organized the committee in January, 1962.

Mr. Stein was educated at schools in Belle Glade and was graduated from the University of Florida at Gainesville with a degree in agriculture. His family has farmed in the Glades since 1915 and he continues to direct farming operations including vegetables, sugar cane, and beef cattle.

A veteran of the U. S. Army, Mr. Stein saw duty in Munich, Germany, in 1954 and 1955. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Belle Glade. His favorite hobbies are fishing and hunting. Mr. Stein is married, has three sons, and a daughter, and makes his home in Belle Glade.

Fire Crackers Are Dangerous To Many

At the recent meeting of the WSCS of the Pahokee Methodist Church, members discussed the Fourth of July fireworks on the lake and the dangers present to spectators due to children throwing lighted fire crackers.

Last year there were several minor injuries and burns caused by thoughtless children and young people. The WSCS is making a plea to the parents not to buy their children fire crackers. Most of these children are not supervised and are unaware of the tragedy they can cause in the name of fun.

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Battle Continues On "Alligator Alley"

TALLAHASSEE—Opponents of "Alligator Alley," the proposed two-lane toll road between Naples and Fort Lauderdale, are continuing their battle against the project.

Attorneys for the AAA Motor Clubs of Florida and for the City of Miami are presenting arguments before the Florida Supreme Court to the reasons in asking the court not to validate the $17 million bonds which the Florida Development Commission proposes to issue to finance the project.

Arguments against the toll road include the fact that the state constitution does not permit one county to underwrite construction of a road in another county. The AAA says, also, the bond resolution permits collection of tolls after expiration of the original bond period when the road should be turned over to the state as a free road when the bonds are paid.

The motor clubs say that the counties involved have not acquired right-of-way for the road. "Alligator Alley" figured prominently in the gubernatorial campaign with front-runner Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville personally appearing before the State Road Board urging the state not to approve the project.

Mayor Robert King High of Miami came out against the project and under his leadership the City of Miami became a party to the legal suit endeavoring to stop the bond issue.

your U.S. Savings Bond won't lose its value... or even stop growing

What has happened to U. S. Savings Bonds?

They've been stolen and thrown into a river. Mistakenly left in an oven and baked at 400°. Hidden in a cookie jar and eaten full of holes by hungry beetles. Forgotten in a pair of work pants and washed bleached and spin dried. Cut in to tiny pieces by an irate wife. Gnawed by mice, and gobbled by goats.

Yet, in spite of all these fortunes, these Bonds to their owners. They did stop growing in value.

The Treasury Department has a record on microfilm Savings Bond sold. So that's lost, destroyed or can be replaced. And the service is free.

The safety is just one of the many reasons why U. S. Savings Bonds are the most widely held securities in the world. Another good reason why you should invest in Bonds is the important job they can do right now in making America safer from the enemies of freedom.

Buy Bonds and see if you don't find it pretty good about it.
